

Personal Info:

Name: Mateusz Badecki
Address: Stockholm, Sweden
Mail: flmathematic@gmail.com
Linkedin profile: mateusz-badecki-8782b53b
Github account: flmath
Webpage: https://flmath.github.io/subpages/cv/my_cv.html

Skills

Professional product development: Erlang, IMS, Linux, Git, Scrum, Clean Code
Scripting for professional purpose: Python, Sqlite, Javascript, R language
Fields of additional interest: Mathematics and its applied subfields in IT

Experience

08/2015 to present Ericsson SBG

Developing SBG (Session Border Gateway) as a Consultant from DEK Sweden. The Media Security Control, Overload Control, Network Provided Location Information features and WiFi access. Creating tool parsing test logs to a SQL database.

08/2015 to present DEK Sweden

Developing SBG (Session Border Gateway) at Ericsson. Creating a web GUI for OTP Common Test.

01/2014 to 06/2015 Ericsson SBG

Expanding a TLS support for the project. Assessing efficiency of throttling algorithms for SIP messages with a simulation of the node (in R language). Writing support scripts for tagging PTA language.

05/2012 to 12/2013 Ericsson MTAS

Developing MTAS (Multimedia Telephony Application Server). Working with in agile methodology on design (C++), test (TTCN-3), and documentation of the IMS node.

02/2012 to 07/2015 Ericpol

Trainings and examinations preparing for a supplier role in external companies. Passed exams from Erlang, TTCN-3, and C++ languages. Internal in-house trainings. A supplier for MTAS and SBG projects.

Education

2011: Faculty of Mathematics and Computer Science of the Jagiellonian University:
Master of Science in Computational Mathematics

Certificates

2017: Coursera online certificate: Machine Learning
2014: Coursera online certificate: Model Thinking
2013: Coursera online certificate: Computer Networks
2013: Udacity online certificate: Statistic
2012: Erlang Solution: Foundation Certificate

Interests

Please, refer to my webpage: https://flmath.github.io/subpages/cv/my_cv.html